REVIEW ENGAGEMENT REPORT

The Shareholders, Bi-Optic Ventures Inc.

I have reviewed the balance sheet of BI-OPTIC VENTURES INC. as at August 31, 2003 and the statements of operations, deficit and cash flows for the period of six months ended August 31, 2002. My review was made in accordance with Canadian generally accepted standards for review engagements and accordingly consisted primarily of enquiry, analytical procedures and discussion related to information supplied to me by the Company.

A review does not constitute an audit and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on these financial statements.

Based on my review, nothing has come to my attention that causes me to believe that these financial statements are not, in all material respects, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

1. NATURE AND CONTINUANCE OF BUSINESS

The Company has been designated as inactive by the TSX Venture Exchange. The Company was previously in the mining business, operating as a junior mining company. On April 6, 2001, the Company changed its name from Royal Rock Ventures Inc. to Bi-Optic Ventures Inc. The Company is evaluating other business interests and projects.

The financial statements have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which assumes that the Company will continue its operations and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon, among other things, the continued financial support of the related parties and its ability to obtain the necessary financing for working capital, and ultimately upon its ability to generate future profitable operations.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- a) Amortization
 - Capital assets are recorded at cost and are amortized over their estimated useful lives at 20% 30% declining basis. Further, only one-half the amortization is taken on assets acquired during the year.
- b) Financial Instruments

The company's financial instruments consist primarily of cash, GST recoverable, excess of cheques written over funds on deposit, accounts receivable, amounts due by related parties and accounts payable, and have their fair market values approximating their carrying values.

- c) Loss Per Share
 - Loss per share has been calculated based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share considers the dilutive impact of the conversion of outstanding stock options and warrants as if the events had occurred at the beginning of the period. Due to the losses, potentially dilutive securities are excluded from the calculation of diluted loss per share, as they were antidilutive. Therefore, there is no difference in the calculation of basic and dilutive loss per share.
- d) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

3. SHARE CAPITAL

a) $\frac{\text{Authorized}}{100,000,000}$ Common shares without par value.

 (Feb.28, 2003 800,000).
- e) Stock Options
 There were no stock options outstanding as at August 31, 2003, (Feb. 28, 2003-Nil).

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

- a) During the period the Company paid or accrued management fees of $15,000 (2002 $15,000), rent, accounting and professional services of $21,000 (2002 $18,000) to companies controlled by directors.
- b) The amounts due to and loans from related parties are non-interest bearing, unsecured, with no fixed terms of repayment. The amount due by related parties of $650 is non interest bearing, unsecured, and repayable on demand.

2003 DIFFERENCES BETWEEN GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES IN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES

The Company follows Canadian generally accepted accounting principles which are different in some respects from those applicable in the United States as follows:

(a) Loss Per Share

Under US GAAP basic loss per share is calculated by dividing loss over the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of common shares outstanding excludes any shares that remain in escrow, but may be earned out based on the Company meeting certain performance criteria. Under Canadian GAAP the calculation of basic loss per share is similar except that escrowed shares are included in determining the weighted average number of shares outstanding. Diluted loss per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised. There were no outstanding stock options nor shares held under escrow at August 31, 2003, February 28, 2003 and August 31, 2002.

5. DIFFERENCES BETWEEN GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES IN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES - continued

b) Impairment Losses

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121 (the statement) requires that long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles to be held and used by an entity be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. In performing the review for recoverability, the Company should estimate future cash flows expected to result from the asset and its eventual disposition. If the sum of the expected future undiscounted cash flows is less than the carrying amount of the asset, an impairment loss is recognized. Impairment losses resulting from the application of the statement should be reported in the period in which the recognition criteria are met. The Company's long lived assets are capital assets.

c) Stock Options

The Company follows APB 25 for options granted to employees and directors. For employees and directors, compensation expense is recognized under the intrinsic value method. Under this method, compensation cost is the excess, if any, of the quoted market price at grant date over the exercise price. Such expense is reflected over the service period; if for prior services, expensed at date of grant; if for future services, expensed over vesting period. There were no stock options granted or outstanding at August 31, 2003 and 2002, and at February 28, 2003.

The impact of the foregoing on the financial statements is as follows:

Balance Sheets	Aug. 31, 2003	Feb 28, 2003
